Help for the industry – from the industry

This is a repeat of the events held at Colwyn Bay on the 12th November 2008 and 4th March 2009

Construction Health and Safety Event

This is one of a series of free trade specific partnership events run by the industry for the industry, as part of the UK-wide Working Well Together (WWT) campaign.

The aim of the morning sessions are to raise awareness of key health and safety issues facing the construction industry and also to give practical advice on how to avoid risks on construction sites. The afternoon session will explain what can happen when things go wrong and a worker is injured or even killed. A fictitious accident is used and events will unfold as they would do in reality.

If you run a small building, construction or contracting company, or if you are self-employed and would like up to date advice to help you get to grips with health and safety, then this free event is a must.
